

Six Flags Features Prof. Cyrus Cosmo

Prof. Cosmo, Six Flags' newest attraction, tickles a visitor.

There's a new professor in Arlington these days, but he never goes near the university.

He's Prof. Cyrus Cosmo, a costumed character who does all his research at Six Flags Over Texas and he's just one of many new attractions the theme amusement park will have when it opens March 15.

Developed exclusively for Six Flags, Prof. Cosmo is described by his creators as a "part-time inventor, part-time illusionist and full-time showman." He is also star of the Cyrus Cosmo Wonder Show, a magic show staged when other entertainers are not appearing.

Several new features at the park have themes involving Prof. Cosmo including a 13-speed thrill ride called the Rotoriculous and a tiny antique biplane called The C. Cosmo Flying Machine Co.

Besides the park's more than 100 rides, shows and attractions there will be a new puppet show and several new musical productions for this season.

Six Flags Over Texas will be open weekends from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. during the spring months with daily operation beginning May 24.
